New Relic Fact Sheet

New Relic provides the real-time insights that software-driven businesses need to innovate faster. New Relic's cloud platform makes every aspect of modern software and infrastructure observable, so companies can find and fix problems faster, build high-performing DevOps teams, and speed up transformation projects. Learn why more than 50% of the Fortune 100 trust New Relic at newrelic.com.

Brief History

Lew Cirne founded New Relic in 2008 to provide an advanced application performance management (APM) solution to businesses of any size through a software-as-a-service offering. Today, New Relic offers a complete platform to provide companies with real-time insights into their customer experience, application performance and infrastructure performance. In December of 2014, the company went public under the ticker symbol NEWR.

New Relic Platform

Powered by the real-time analytics of New Relic Insights and built on a scalable cloud platform, the New Relic Platform delivers powerful performance monitoring and alerts so you have visibility into:

- Customer Experience: Get a single, shared view of the customer across multiple interactions, channels, and products. (New Relic Browser, New Relic Mobile, New Relic Synthetics)
- Applications: Build, deploy, and maintain great software with detailed performance metrics for every aspect of your environment. (New Relic APM)
- Infrastructure: Correlate health metrics with recent config changes so you can troubleshoot, scale, and deploy rapidly. (New Relic Infrastructure)
